GARAGE TOUR

It's 9:00am and everyone is gathering at Danny Rouit's for the start of the 2007 Garage Tour. Attendance was down a little from last year but that's ok. Sometimes a smaller group is better at getting around town.

There were six garages on the tour this year, first was Mark Meadow's (Sierra/ Villa), second, Jon Martino's in (Rolling Hills, Madera), Third, Al Madril's (Sunnyside/ Bullard), fourth, Greg Austin's (Sunnyside/ Ashlan) fifth, Larry and Leilani Koop (Olive/ DeWolf) and sixth Bruce William's (Herndon Ave).

Every stop had something different to see. Everyone who opened up their garage for all to see did a great job at presenting their stuff and providing snacks and beverages for all the riders. And as always thanks to Bruce Williams for doing a fantastic job with the BBQ lunch and offering us a great venue to have it at.

Thanks to all the volunteers that help make this event one of the most popular rides of the year. Enjoy the pics.

Live to Ride, Ride to Eat

Why Don't Bikers Wave Anymore?

Goldwing riders don't wave because they don't want to take their hands off their heated grips.

They aren't sure whether the other rider was waving or making an obscene gesture.

It is hard to see other riders through the 38 inch etched windshield.

He was actually asleep when the other rider waved.

He was in the middle of a conference call with his stockbroker and his accessory dealer.

He was trying to read the Satellite Navigational System while adjusting the CD player and air suspension.

He was distracted by the odd-shaped blip on his radar screen.

He was daydreaming about adding a trike setup, a sidecar, or a trailer...or all three!!

Couldn't find the "Auto-Waveback Button" on the dashboard!

Sportbike riders won't wave if you aren't wearing bright enough gear to attract their attention.

Sportbike riders are going too fast to see your wave and respond.

If they stick their arm out at that speed the wind will rip it off!

They haven't been riding long enough to know you are supposed to wave!

They are daydreaming of the day when their girlfriend turns 18: 6 days, 2 hr, 31 minutes!

They don't want to unbalance themselves while standing on the tank!

Their skin tight Kevlar-ballistic-nylon-kangaroo-leather suits prevent any movement other than rotating the throttle!

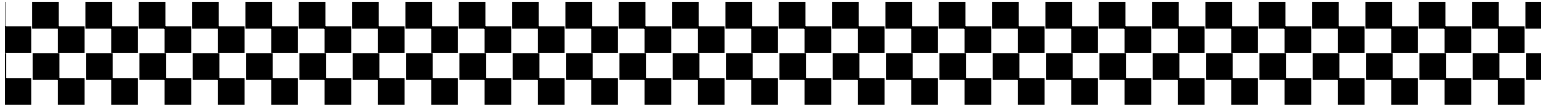

It's too hard to do one-handed stoppies!!

They are fleeing the cops and can't take time to socialize!

Their flip-flop is loose and they are reaching down to adjust it!
